The Cancer Institute of Guyana is privilege to be a part of this worthy initiative which is aimed at serving women in remotes and under privilege areas across Guyana. We believe that each patient should receive considerate and respectful care/services, regardless of their race, creed, color, national origin, religion, age, diagnosis, disability, etc., and that also takes into consideration the patient(s) values and beliefs.

Recognizing the challenges in serving a large geographic area of (83,000 square miles and a population of 742,041), as well as the similar obstacles faced by women to receive proper cervical cancer education, screening and treatment, we are collaborating with the Ministry of Health in this effort and is committed to providing screening services across Guyana so as to help ensure that rural women achieve optimal cervical screening. The mission of the Institute is to reduce cancer's impact through compassionate care and innovative educational and outreach activities with the grant we will be receiving from your Direct Aid Program

We strive to establish a social educational network of health care providers and other health facilities to promote early detection and prevention of cancer among the general population of Guyana. Too many of women are dying because they cannot afford the screening for cervical cancer or they live too far to access health facilities.

On behalf of the Management and Staff of the Cancer Institute of Guyana, we would like to take this opportunity to say thank you for this generous grant which will be used to provide education and screening for cervical cancer to those women who reside in remote areas across Guyana.
