

Caribbean Civil Society

Cervical Cancer Prevention Initiative (C4PI)

Funded by the Australian Government's Direct Aid Program (DAP)

January - June 2014

JCS Executive Director Yulit Gordon explaining the need for Pap Tests

Women from rural communities at the Jamaica Cancer Society Mobile Pap Test screening facility

Nurse Hall
JCS Head Nurse
preparing for action

Jamaica

Cancer Society

Reaching Most at Risk Women in Rural Jamaica for Cervical Cancer Screening

Objectives:

Educate Jamaican women in rural communities about cervical cancer.

Improve cervical cancer screening attitudes among women in rural communities.

This funding has provided:

Cervical cancer education for 613 women.

Cervical cancer screening for 613 women.

Ongoing collection of Caribbean Cervical Cancer Electronic Petition signatures (www.endcervicalcancer.org).

Outcomes:

Increased service delivery capacity of Jamaica Cancer Society.

Increased cervical cancer knowledge among Jamaican women in rural communities.

Improved screening attitudes among Jamaican women in rural communities.